ABSTRACT

S. Harry Robertson has worked in the fields of aviation safety, safety research, accident investigation, and in the design and production of crashworthy, ballistically tolerant fuel systems used by military aircraft worldwide. The Robertson Papers contains accident investigation case files (including over 15,000 photographs); technical papers, reports, and reference material; a video library; and books and periodicals.

PRELIMINARY INVENTORY

General Files

This series, currently unprocessed, contains depositions given by Robertson, FAA and NTSB publications and reports, accident reports and briefs, conference and symposium proceedings, materials from aviation and safety organizations, periodicals, publications, handbooks and manuals, and audiovisual material.

Accident Investigation Case Files

The contents of the case files vary. They may contain accident reports, analysis of the accident, engineering reports, aircraft information, and photographs. A number of cases are represented only by photographs; some of these cases involve automotive accidents. A few case files relate to studies conducted by Robertson and his colleagues rather than to accident investigations.
